

Onboarding Checklist

Client Onboarding · move a new client from first contact to ready-to-deliver

Purpose. This checklist gives LEA Labs and the client a shared view of readiness. It protects the client experience by making responsibilities, information, approvals, safeguarding, payment, and delivery preparation visible before the programme begins.

1 · Onboarding record

Field	Information
Client / organisation
Programme / service
Client lead
LEA Labs lead
Target start date
Reference
Status	☐ Not started ☐ In progress ☐ Ready

2 · LEA Labs readiness stages

LEA onboarding is designed to make the first delivery moment clear and useful. The client should know what will happen, who is responsible, what participants need, how progress will be supported, and how results will be evidenced.

3 · Checklist

No.	Readiness item	Owner	Status
1	Client information and primary contacts confirmed		☐
2	Need, audience, outcome, and programme selected		☐
3	Scope, dates, delivery format, and participant numbers agreed		☐
4	Quotation / agreement / Statement of Work approved		☐
5	Invoice, deposit, or payment arrangement confirmed		☐
6	Venue, platform, equipment, access, and materials ready		☐
7	Learner, parent, safeguarding, or consent requirements addressed		☐
8	Facilitator, trainer, mentor, or technical team assigned		☐
9	Baseline, attendance, feedback, and impact measures prepared		☐
10	Welcome communication and first-session plan sent		☐

4 · Outstanding actions

5 · Client preparation

People and access:

Information, materials, data, and equipment:

Participant communication and expectations:

6 · LEA Labs preparation

Programme, curriculum, platform, or technical setup:

Facilitator / trainer / support team readiness:

Safeguarding, inclusion, consent, and escalation route:

Measurement and reporting plan:

7 · Ready-to-start review

Final risks or dependencies:

Ready-to-start decision: ☐ Yes ☐ Yes, with actions ☐ Not yet

Reviewed by: Date:

LEA principle. A successful start is not only an administrative handover. It is the first step in helping people learn, practise, create evidence, and advance.